

THE EVENING TELEGRAPH.

PRICE THREE CENTS.]

PHILADELPHIA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1864.

[PRICE THREE CENTS.]

News from the South.

REBELLION WITHIN REBELLION

Extraordinary Disaffection in North Carolina and Georgia.

STEPHENS ON RECONSTRUCTION.

Opinions of the Richmond "Whig."

Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc., Etc.

The Rebels in Rebellion.

NORTH CAROLINA AND GEORGIA FILLED WITH ARMED DESERTERS AND RUNAWAY SLAVES—THEIR LEADERS ON THE FUGITIVE LINE—ALL REBELS TO CALL THEM—THEIR DISAFFECTION AND CONSPIRACY IN NORTH CAROLINA—JEFF. DAVIS IN FAVOR OF EVACUATING VIRGINIA, ETC.

Dr. J. W. Ross, who stands high as a clergyman in North Carolina, arrived in New York yesterday direct from Raleigh, the important seat of the rebellion. He says that in North Carolina, as well as Georgia, is alive with Rebel deserters, who in most cases are armed and organized, and abundantly able to protect themselves.

In the western part of the States they reign supreme. There they not only make repeated raids on the wealthy planters and Rebel depots for supplies, but give protection to runaway slaves, who are also armed and accompanying these bands of rebels.

The Rebel authorities, says Dr. Ross, have given up all hope of forcing these men back into the Rebel ranks, having been repelled in all their efforts to that end. Every expedition fitted out for that purpose has been repelled, and every raid made by these men has been a failure, for those who were not killed in battle deserted to the insurgents, whose numbers are continually increasing. Jeff. Davis said, when in Raleigh, that the deserters from the Confederates army outnumbered the Confederate soldiers in the field.

The extensive conspiracy recently brought to light at Raleigh implicates many prominent officers of the conservative party, who now openly叛逆 these deserters and their friends, and take up arms against the Union. The State of North Carolina and all the railroads in the event Governor Vance fails to institute at once a separate State action for peace with President Lincoln.

The doctor says that it is now apparent to the Rebels that their cause is lost, and has been affording facilities to General Lee to receive reinforcements, when Grant, by a sudden spring of his trap, will close upon the fast gap and wedge Lee to capitulation. This, Governor Vance says, is Grant's plan, who has given Jeff. Davis much credit for his military ability, and remarked that it was one of his highest difficulties for a commander to be placed in.

The 20 Corps captured altogether some 1500 prisoners.

From the fact that the 5th Corps did not march on the railroad, and in a total absence of tools, the possession of the plank road was abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a diversion, and was partially successful.

The 5th Corps moved from their entrenched camp on the left of the plank road, and pushing down the Chalk road, struck the plank road, and abandoned, and the corps fell back on the 10th Corps by the Wood road, called by the Rebels "Tobacco road," and reached Hatcher's Run about noon.

Gen. Cavalry was lying in support of Grant's line, and executed a charge to the left of our position and back at the plank road.

It created a